

Adieu; a heart-warm, fond adieu;
Dear brothers of the mystic tie,
Ye favor'd, ye enlighten'd few,
Companions of my social joy!
Though I to foreign lands must hie,
Pursuing fortune's slidd'ry ba',*
With melting heart, and brimful eye
I'll mind you still though far awa'.

Oft have I met your social band,
And spent the cheerful festive night;
Of, honour'd with supreme command,
Presided o'er the sons of light;
And by that hieroglyphic bright,
Which none but Craftsmen ever saw!
Strong Mem'ry on my heart shall write
Those happy scenes, when far awa'.

THE TABLE LODGE

A RICH HERITAGE

Traditionally, Freemasonry has two great festivals, the Feast of St. John the Baptist (June 24) and the Feast of St. John the Evangelist (December 27). Of these Masonic Feasts much has been written, but to little account. The two Feasts, coming at the time of the summer and winter solstices, are of course older than Christianity, being reminiscences of the old Light Religion, in which Masonry had its origin.

Connecticut Masons are perhaps more cognizant of the Feast of St. John the Baptist, since it has been their prevailing custom to attend, as a Lodge, a divine church service on the Sunday nearest the date of the summer festival.

The observance of the Feast of St. John the Evangelist, is one of the noble old traditions of our Craft that has been allowed to fall into disuse in the Twentieth Century. In the belief that this festive occasion can be revived to the enlightenment and pleasure of the Brethren, the ritualistic observance and the suggested program for the Festive Board which follow have been prepared.

The earliest "ritual" of the French Table Lodge was long and elaborate. In a modified form a similar ceremony was then used in England. The ceremony suggested for use in Connecticut Lodges is abbreviated and simplified, but retains all the significance of former times.

The Table Lodge is no mere banquet with entertainment; it is a special Lodge ceremony in itself, with a ritual, formalities and a special terminology which is of some interest. Particular care should be taken, therefore, to see that the observance is conducted in the proper spirit of the occasion with the utmost dignity and decorum.

WHEN TO OBSERVE - The winter festival long was a favorite time for installation of officers; but it is not recommended that installation be combined with a Table Lodge observance. Each is a distinct ceremony within itself, and each is filled with meaning. To attempt to crowd both into one evening would greatly prolong the program and detract from the enjoyment of each.

ADVANCE PREPARATIONS

A TILED LODGE - It must be remembered that a Table Lodge is a tiled Lodge open on the Entered Apprentice Degree, authorized by the Grand Master for a specific time, place and occasion. Thus, arrangements should be made for proper tiling of the dining room throughout the Table Lodge observance. Any invited guests must be Masons, and the membership of any visiting Brethren should be verified. For a Table Lodge observance, it is not necessary that the charter of the Lodge be moved to the dining room.

A dispensation from the Grand Lodge is required if the Table Lodge Ceremony will be held outside of the Lodge Building.

The Table Lodge is a Lodge of Entered Apprentices to enable the Entered Apprentice and Fellowcraft to benefit by table instruction and to enjoy Masonic fellowship early in his Masonic life. Also, it was an old custom that the initiates served during the Hour of Refreshment.

All the Brethren should be clothed as Entered Apprentices, and none should wear the uniform or regalia of any other organization.

Note particularly that a special ritualistic ceremony for opening and closing a Table Lodge is provided. At the appropriate time the Master opens a Table Lodge, using the brief ritual which begins on page 17. Immediately following the singing of “Auld Lang Syne”, the Table Lodge is closed (page 33).

TABLE LODGE MANNERS - Our Brethren need not be reminded, we trust, that they should appear at the Festive Board attired in a manner that will reflect their respect for their Lodge and for Freemasonry. One reminder perhaps should be emphasized on the printed program, or by announcement of the Master, or both: The Brethren always refrain from smoking while the Table Lodge is open.

ARRANGING THE DINING ROOM - In arranging the dining room for a Table Lodge, follow closely the diagram shown elsewhere in this booklet (page 16). Arrange the tables in elongated horseshoe pattern if at all possible, with the speakers table representing the East. The Brethren should be seated on the outer rim of the horseshoe, with the Altar in the center. Try to avoid seating the Brethren along the inner rim if at all possible. If the size of the group in attendance will not permit the traditional arrangement, then set tables for the Brethren at right angles to the speakers' table, leaving ample room for the Altar immediately in front of the Master's chair. Do not crowd the Altar - give it a position of honor in the Lodge.

ENTERTAINMENT - The ritual for a Table Lodge does not offer an opportunity for any type of secular entertainment. It is not an occasion for comedians, nor magicians, nor vaudeville artists, nor tap dancers. Music during the dinner is to be encouraged, but it should be appropriate to the occasion, and it must be provided by Masons.

SINGING THE ODES - Freemasons traditionally were known for their singing. They sang a great deal, and they enjoyed it. Regrettably, singing among the Craft also has fallen into disuse, but many of the fine old Masonic odes have been handed down to us. The Table Lodge provides an excellent opportunity for the custom to be revived. The help of some Brethren who are good singers should be enlisted. They should be made familiar with the odes, all of which are set to well known tunes. If possible, secure a Mason who is a good pianist to be accompanist. If the Lodge has a choir, the effect can be especially impressive.

YOUR SPEAKER - The success of a Masonic festival depends to a great extent upon the quality of the Brother who delivers the address. Bear in mind four important points: (1) The address should be limited to no more than 20 minutes, (2) it should be inspirational in tone, (3) vulgarity and suggestive stories should never be permitted, (4) any type of subject matter not appropriate to the occasion should be avoided. Insist that the address be strictly Masonic. The Festive Board of Freemasonry is not a time for talking up a pet movement, nor for selling a project, nor for solicitation of funds. Denunciations are out of place, and certainly there should be no discussions with sectarian or political overtones, however cleverly concealed they may be.

THE GRAND MASTER'S MESSAGE - The message from the Grand Master should be one of the highlights of the occasion. If the Grand Master is not in attendance at the Table Lodge, select a Brother who is an effective reader to present the message. Take particular pains to see that the Brethren are able to hear both the speaker's address and the Grand Master's message. Permit no interruptions, no conversation or clatter of dishes in the kitchen while the Table Lodge is in progress.

THE TRADITIONAL TOASTS - The Ceremony of the Seven Toasts should be the high point of the evening's fellowship. Alcoholic beverages may be used at a Masonic banquet in Connecticut. If the Lodge prefers, instead of an alcoholic beverage, a good fruit punch may be used, especially a hot spiced punch. Several recipes for such a preparation are included in this booklet (pages 12-15). When an alcoholic beverage is provided an alternate of nonalcoholic nature shall be provided for those whose preference is such. The recommended plan is to have 1½ oz. beverage glasses with the table setting, and leave them at each place when the tables are cleared. At the proper time, Entered Apprentices, Fellowcrafts and newly raised Master Masons may retire, bring in the beverage, fill the glasses, and then take their places at the table. It is helpful if a Brother who is familiar with the practice of drinking Masonic toasts can give a few words of instruction prior to the ceremony. Above all, the Master should not permit levity nor burlesque during such a solemn rite.

REHEARSALS - For best results, some rehearsal by the officers of the Lodge in advance of a Table Lodge festival is recommended in order that there shall be no confusion. The rehearsal should include the rituals of opening and closing, and the Ceremony of the Seven Toasts, described in the paragraphs which follow. A successful Table Lodge ceremony can not be held unless the plan is thoroughly understood and carried out with precision. If the officers are familiar with it, others will quickly conform.

THE TRADITIONAL TOASTS

INTERESTING BACKGROUND - Traditionally, the ceremony of the Toasts makes use of a fascinating nomenclature. The moment the Table Lodge is opened, everything in the dining room assumes a name of a martial nature. Thus, glasses become cannons, the beverage becomes powder, bread is rough ashlar, food - materials, knives - swords, etc. Military commands are given when executing the toasts.

For example, when the “cannons” are “charged” the Master conducts the toast using the terms “Right Hand to arms . . . Ready . . . Aim . . . Fire. Good Fire. Fire All! . . . Present Arms” etc.

It is emphasized that the meal should be incorporated into and become a part of the Table Lodge. The entire proceedings must be conducted within the confines of tiled quarters. If the room where the food is to be served is such that it cannot be properly tiled, then the meal must be served prior to Table Lodge. It is, however, urged that effort be made to combine the meal with the Table Lodge since this is traditional and should make the whole occasion more meaningful and hence more enjoyable.

The traditional toasts are seven in number and may be interspersed with the courses of the meal at the discretion of the Master. The following is a suggestion:

|-----------------------|----------------------------------|
| 1 st Toast | During explanation |
| 2 nd Toast | After completion of First Course |
| 3 rd Toast | After Main Course served to all |
| 4 th Toast | After completion of Main Course |

- 5th Toast After Dessert
- 6th Toast After recognition of visitors
- 7th Toast After Speaker

The Seven traditional toasts usually include the following combination and in the order given:

1. To our Country (always given by the W.M.)
2. * To the Holy Saints John
3. * To the Memory of our Departed Brethren
4. * To the Grand Master
5. To Lodge (always given by J.W.)
6. To our Visiting Brethren (always given by S.W.)
7. To all Freemasons Wheresoever Dispersed (always given by the Tiler)

*May be given by any Brother designated by the Master.

TOASTS THAT MAY AND MUST BE USED - Two toasts are always used on all occasions: The Toast to Our Country and the Tiler's Toast (To All Freemasons Wheresoever Dispersed). On proper occasions, other toasts may be substituted for one or more of the seven listed above, such as: To the President of the United States, to our Brethren in the Armed Forces of the United States, to the Initiates, to the Past Masters, to the Founders of Our Lodge, to the Masonic Geriatric Health Care Facilities and our Guests therein, to our Ancient Craft, to the Memory of the Illustrious Three, and many others.

RESPONSES - Oftentimes, brief and appropriate responses are given to the toasts. It is not recommended that only printed responses be included in the program.

HOW TO CONDUCT THE CEREMONY - The traditional manner of conducting the ceremony of the seven toasts is as follows:

When the time comes to propose the first toast, the Master calls the Brethren to order:

WORSHIPFUL MASTER: - Brethren in the Columns of the North and South, in all your grades and stations, charge and align your arms for the First Toast of Obligation which is about to be proposed.

WORSHIPFUL MASTER: Are the Cannons charged and aligned.

(Worshipful Master: Rises, raps three times - all rise.)

WORSHIPFUL MASTER: Brethren, I have the honor to propose a toast to Our Country: Long may our land be bright with Freedom's holy light; Protect us by Thy might, Great God our King!

WORSHIPFUL MASTER:

Right hand to arms - The right hand touches the glass
Ready - The glass is raised, the arm extended to the height of the breast.
Aim - The glass is brought to the lips
Fire, Good Fire, Fire all! - All drink

Present arms

- The glass is brought to the second position, all imitating the W.M. Then the glass is carried to the left breast, then to the right breast, and then again to the second position, so the motion makes a triangle. When this has been done thrice, the glass is brought to the table, in three movements, that is to say, at the first it is carried horizontally a little to the left, then to the right, and then forcibly to the table. The Battery and the acclamation “VIVAT” is given thrice.

Exactly the same procedure is followed in proposing and drinking the remaining toasts.

WHO PARTICIPATES - All the Brethren participate in the toasts at exactly the same instant except those whose health is being proposed. Thus, when the Junior Warden offers a toast to the Lodge, the Master remains seated and does not participate; when the Senior Warden proposes a toast to the visiting Brethren, the visitors remain seated and do not join in the drinking.

Those whose health has been drunk then respond with a toast in the same manner.

Opening of a Table Lodge

W.M. calls on Chaplain for invocation.

Chaplain: Supreme Ruler of the Universe, we would reverently invoke Thy blessing at this time. Wilt Thou be pleased to grant that this meeting, thus begun in order, may be conducted in peace and closed in harmony. Amen.

Response: So mote it be.

*W.M. seats Lodge .

W.M. Brothers Senior and Junior Warden, invite our Brethren on the columns of the North and South to assist us in opening a Table Lodge.

S.W. Brethren in the column of the North, assist us in opening a Table Lodge.

1. The Library of the Grand Lodge of Iowa possesses a "Ritual for Table Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons," translated and adapted from an old French ritual in possession of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts. The ceremonies of opening and closing, and of the Seven Toasts, have been abbreviated and adapted to use for Connecticut Lodges.

J.W. Brethren in the column of the South, assist us in opening a Table Lodge.

W.M. Brother Senior Warden, are you a Mason?

S.W. All my Brethren know me as such.

W.M. What is the first care of a Mason?

S.W. To see if the Lodge is duly tiled.

W.M. Satisfy yourself.

S.W. It is, Worshipful.

W.M. What is the second?

S.W. To see if all the Brethren are in order. (After looking about.) They are, Worshipful.

W.M. Why are we met together?

S.W. To erect Temples to virtue and dig dungeons for vices.

.M. How long must we work?

S.W. From midday to midnight.

W.M. How long a time is required to make an Entered Apprentice?

S.W. Three years.

W.M. What is your age?

S.W. Three years.

W.M. What is the hour?

S.W. Almost midday.

W.M. In consideration of the hour and age, inform our Brethren that a Table Lodge is now open, and that we are about to begin our Works in the usual manner.

S.W. (Calls up Lodge ): Brethren in the column of the North, in consideration of the hour, a Table Lodge is now open, and we are about to begin our Works in the usual manner.

J.W. Brethren in the column of the South, in consideration of the hour, a Table Lodge is now open, and we are about to begin our Works in the usual manner.

Reception of Distinguished Guests

*W.M. calls up Lodge ***.*

W.M. Brethren, you will join in giving Grand Honors, taking time from the East.

(Grand Honors to be given only to Grand Master or his representative. Other distinguished guests will be greeted with a hearty round of applause.)

Brethren follow W.M. in giving battery (Grand Honors), three times three.

*W.M. seats Lodge .

The Lesson (Psalm 133)..... The Chaplain

Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for Brethren to dwell together in unity!

It is like the precious ointment upon the head, that ran down upon the beard, even Aaron's beard, that went down to the skirts of his garments;

As the dew of Hermon, and as the dew that descended upon the mountains of Zion; for there the Lord commanded the blessing, even life for evermore.

PROLOGUE (The Worshipful Master or someone delegated by him)

W.M. - Brethren, in ancient times the Masonic Feast was an honored custom and a significant event of Masonic Life, constituted for the laudable purpose of promoting social feeling and cementing the bonds of brotherly love and friendship. It was a lodge of Entered Apprentices, so that all Brethren, regardless of rank or station, were joined together for social enjoyment. Food and drink were plentiful, and business was not transacted.

It was more than just a meal. It was a time when the lodge was at table, duly tiled against all Cowans and Eavesdroppers, opened in form and governed by the Master in accordance with prescribed ritual for a festive occasion within due bounds.

Brethren on this day of in the year of light 59__ agreeable to our Masonic heritage we are now a lodge at table.

Explanation of Ceremony of the Toasts and Sword Manual, the Battery, "Vivat", and reference to terminology guide.

(Given by the Worshipful Master or someone designated by him.)

There are to be seven ritual toasts. Choice of beverages is provided. Please choose according to your preference. Glasses are 1 ½ ounces for each toast. The Stewards and their assistants will service the glasses.

All accouterments for this feast assume new names:

Glasses are Cannons

Bottles are casks

Knives are Swords

Red wine is Red powder

etc.

You will find a listing on the back of the program.

Each toast is to be given thus:

At the command Right Hand to Arms! the right hand touches the glass (demonstrate) Ready! the glass is raised, the arm extended to the height of the breast (demonstrate) Aim! the glass is brought to the lips (demonstrate) Fire, Good Fire, Fire all! all drink. Present arms! The glass is brought to the second position, all imitating the Worshipful Master, (demonstrate) then to the left breast (demonstrate) then the right breast (demonstrate) then again to the second position (demonstrate), so that the motion makes a triangle. When this has been done thrice, the glass is brought to the table in three movements, thus: first carried horizontally a little to the left, then to the right, then forcibly to the table (demonstrate). The battery, three times three, is then given and the acclamation “Vivat” is given thrice. (demonstrate).

Ode.....“Let Masonry From Pole to Pole”

Tune: Coronation

(All Hail the Power of Jesus’ Name)

Let Masonry from Pole to Pole
Her sacred laws expand;
Far as the mighty waters roll
To wash remotest land,
Far as the mighty waters roll
To wash remotest land.

That virtue hath not left behind
Her sacred tenets prove,
For stamped upon a Mason’s mind
Are unity and love,
For stamped upon a Mason’s mind
Are unity and love.

Charge to the Brethren The Worshipful Master

Worshipful Master: Brethren, in this solemn hour I charge each of you to rededicate yourself as a Freemason to the noble and glorious purpose of bringing Light to dispel darkness . . . to the service of Him in Whom you put your trust . . . to the precepts set forth in the Great Light in Masonry, the rule and guide of our faith.

I charge you to keep your apron an emblem of innocence, unspotted by the world . . . to practice that most excellent gift of charity . . . to make constant and proper use of the Square of Virtue, the Level of Equality and the Plumb of Rectitude.

Craftsmen in the quarries, I summon you to greater loyalty to your Lodge and your Fraternity . . . to integrity in all your dealings with your fellow men . . . to study to show yourself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed.

Guard against innovations, my Brethren. Preserve the Landmarks. Maintain the reputation of our Fraternity. Aid and succor the needy. Remember your Brother's welfare. Be circumspect always in speech. Assist and support him who is falling. Whisper good counsel in the ear of him who needs encouragement.

Let each of us make use of the Trowel to spread the cement of Brotherhood. Let us labor with the Common Gavel that these Rough Ashlars may be Perfect Ashlars. And finally, my Brethren, remembering how once you stood in the Northeast Corner a just and upright Mason, I give it you strictly in charge ever to walk and act as such.

Response: So mote it be.

Great Source of Light and Love,

To Thee our songs we raise!

O, in Thy Temple, Lord, above,

Hear and accept our praise!

Shine on this festive day,

Succeed its hoped design,

And may our Charity display

A love resembling Thine.

May this fraternal band,

Now consecrated, blest,

In union all distinguished stand,

In purity be dressed.

Tiler: Right Hand to Arms!

Ready!

Aim!

Fire, Good Fire, Fire All!

Present Arms!

The ceremonies attending these commands are the same as in the First Toast.

Traditional Ode "Auld Lang Syne"

Brethren cross arms and join hands, forming a chain.

Should auld acquaintance be forgot,
And never brought to mind?
Should auld acquaintance be forgot,
And auld lang syne!

Chorus

For auld lang syne, my dear,
For auld lang syne,
We'll tak' a cup o' kindness yet
For auld lang syne!
Then here's a hand, my trusty frien',
And gie's a han' o' thine;
We'll tak' a cup o' kindness yet
For auld lang syne.

(Repeat Chorus)

W.M. seats Lodge *.

Closing of a Table Lodge

W.M. Brothers Senior and Junior Warden, are all the Brethren in order?

S.W. and J.W. They are, Worshipful.

W.M. What is the hour?

S.W. Midnight.

W.M. What is your age?

S. W. Three years.

W.M. In consideration of the hour and age, inform all our Brethren both on the column of the North and South, that we are about to close this Table Lodge, ending our Work in the usual manner.

S.W. (Calls up Lodge): Brethren in the column of the North, I inform you, on behalf of the Worshipful Master, that we are about to close this Table Lodge, ending our Work in the usual manner.

J.W. Brethren in the column of the South, I inform you, on behalf of the Worshipful Master, that we are about to close this Table Lodge, ending our Work in the usual manner,

W.M. before rapping gavel informing that the Table Lodge is closed, he shall say,

W.M. Brethren, our National Anthem.

*W.M. rises, raps three times - all rise ***.*

Brethren join in singing first and last stanzas of the National Anthem.

O say can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous
fight,

O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there.
O say does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

O thus be it ever, when free men shall stand
Between their loved homes and the war's desolation!
Blest with vict'ry and peace, may the heav'n-rescued land
Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation!
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto, "In God is our trust."
And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

W.M. Brother S.W. and J.W. inform the brethren that the table lodge is closed.

S.W. and J.W. My Brothers, the Table Lodge is closed.

W.M. seats the Lodge *.

Closing of Lodge on the Entered Apprentice Degree
